while we're at it

our vision Create a parish of missionary disciples whose personal relationship with Jesus Christ inspires others into a life-changing relationship with Him.

Dear Friends,

I'll never forget when I was a little kid, I got a dollar a week allowance. I thought I was riding high, but it came with one condition: I had to put ten cents in the collection each week. My parents taught me we had to give back to God. Later when I was about 12, I got to make my own money with a paper route or mowing lawns or washing dishes in a restaurant for minimum wage: $2 per hour. But the deal was the same: give 10% back to God.

When I was 17 and dying to have a car, my dad wouldn't let me until I had 50% of the cost saved up. Only then would he cosign on a loan for the balance. And I had to make the payments every month. But that 1972 Chevy Nova was my first car, and I was proud to have earned it. That's the way my folks taught me to be a good steward of my finances.

Each year about this time we invite all the parish to a reflection on our common stewardship – of our parish finances and our goals, our personal blessings from God, and our giving back to God. This week at all the St. Lawrence Masses I'll be offering a reflection on this theme. Next Sunday we'll have a report from our Finance Council on the state of our finances. Later in the month we'll have testimonies from parishioners on what giving means to them and how it has helped change their lives. We'll take up the same theme at Sacred Heart in November.

I'll also be writing to all the families in the parish to encourage everyone to reflect on what we give back to God from everything he has blessed us with. Please take a look at the letter and give it some prayerful consideration. Maybe there's one misconception we should deal with right away. Some people think we get funds from the Archdiocese in some form. That's true for some poor parishes that get subsidies when they are struggling. But parishes like ours have to cover all our own costs – we don't get a thing from "the Archdiocese". Another misconception is about what we have to send to the Archdiocese, or how much of the money we contribute goes to the Archdiocese. Apart from special second collections which go directly to the group they are for (missions, Communications, etc.), we send the Cardinal 8% of our ordinary collection as "cathedraticum" or funds to support the bishop and diocese. Another 7% goes to the Catholic school system of the Archdiocese. Whatever we raise in fundraising or for our Centennial Campaign stays 100% with us.

This month, join us in prayer for our good stewardship and generosity.

God bless,

Fr. Richard

CRISIS IN Church 2018

MONDAY
OCT. 29
7:30 PM
PARISH CENTER

All are invited to an evening to pray together, review the facts and have honest and frank discussions about the crisis gripping the Church we love, and what we can do about it.

Stephen Ministers

are laypeople—Christian men and women—trained to provide one-to-one care to people experiencing a difficult time in life, such as grief, divorce, job loss, chronic or terminal illness, relocation, or separation due to military deployment.

Stephen Ministers come from all walks of life. Their commonality? A passion for bringing Christ's love and care to people during a time of need.

*Set me as a seal upon your heart,
as a seal upon your arm;
For Love is strong as Death,
longing is fierce as Sheol.
Its arrows are arrows of fire,
flames of the divine.
Deep waters cannot quench love,
nor rivers sweep it away.
—Song of Songs 8:6-7a*

I collect smiley faces. The crown jewels of my collection are Harvey Ball autographed smileys and McCoy pottery smileys. When I started my collection, I looked for the McCoy symbol on each pottery piece, to verify it was a “real McCoy.” The stamp of the symbol told me that it had been made in the 1970s and was indeed made by the Ohio manufacturer. Without a stamp, I could only assume it was a counterfeit or copycat piece, coming from nowhere special and belonging to no known entity.

In a 2009 address, Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI spoke about the Holy Trinity in this way: “The name of the Blessed Trinity is, in a certain sense, imprinted upon all things because all that exists, down to the last particle, is in relation; in this way we catch a glimpse of God as relationship and ultimately, Creator Love. All things derive from love, aspire to love and move impelled by love.” That means that you and I, and all material things, bear this imprint. The mark indicates our origin and Creator.

This implies three important realities: 1) All creation is important and precious; 2) All creation belongs to the Creator whose mark is imprinted on it; and, 3) The origin and purpose of that creation is love. A good steward then should cherish everything and everyone around them, and treat all of it with great care and compassion. Even our belongings and resources used to co-create with God all bear His mark. Our children, parents, siblings, friends, neighbors, and enemies, all bear the mark. There is nothing or no one who belongs to an unknown entity. It is all God’s. It is all the real McCoy.

Idea for response

Take a piece of paper and list as many people and things you can think of that you love. Fold it up and keep it at the back of this book for future reference.

Take time to reflect

What is something or who is someone I treat with less respect than deserved?

my hour of peace

Sadhbh Rosney

As a mother of two young children its always been hard to worship in peace. The amazing KIDZONE program at St. Lawrence has afforded me this opportunity. We are so blessed to be a part of a parish that centers so much around family. It's a wonderful feeling to know that your child is being cared for in a fun and loving environment while you attend Mass. Anyone with young families should definitely take advantage of this wonderful faith supporting program.

I find that since participating in KIDZONE I have been able to focus more meaningfully and deeply on my own faith. I look forward to the hour every week, and I'm beyond thankful to all the volunteers that make it possible!
