while we're at it

our vision Create a parish of missionary disciples whose personal relationship with Jesus Christ inspires others into a life-changing relationship with Him.

Dear Friends,

A new year starts and we all have resolutions, right? Maybe some of us don't bother anymore because we fail so often at them... we all know what that feels like.

But most of us continue to make the resolutions to get more exercise, lose weight, pray more, get to Church more often, keep in touch with old friends and family members... and we start off with the best of intentions.

Maybe it doesn't always work, but the idea of a new start and new resolutions shows a desire down deep inside us to become something better than what we are now. We don't want to be the same and we don't want to stagnate. We want to grow.

I think that desire is something God put in us from the moment we were conceived and became human persons – the idea of a calling, or a “vocation” if you will. He has a plan for our lives and it is a good and loving plan for us to become something better than what we are now. To reach a goal for eternity. God invites us to reach a goal he has for each one of us, one that will bring fulfillment and joy.

That's why, when we regress and fall back – into ourselves, or into sinful habits – that we wind up unhappy and depressed. The Evil One is always telling us that our striving for goodness and holiness is useless, fruitless, impossible. He says we will fail. He lies and plays on our discouragement.

The Spirit of Truth, the Holy Spirit, speaks to us very differently. He shines the light of the Truth on our conscience so we recognize where we are lacking, but he gives us the grace also to confess our faults and the strength to depend on his grace. He teaches us interiorly the meaning of what Jesus did and said and helps us apply it in our lives. He is the one who builds virtue in us and helps us see the truth of our calling to be God's people.

We have to choose to whom we will listen: to the Spirit of God or to the enemy of God.

The Catechism sums up the meaning and purpose of our existence: “God made us to know him, to love him, and to serve him in this life so as to be happy with him forever in the next.”

That's sums up what our lives are all about. Everything else that happens is just the details to the story.

When we keep that in mind every day, we have a sure guide for how to live the New Year.

God bless,

Fr. Richard

P.S. Many will remember fondly Fr. Andrew Gyabaah, who served at St. Lawrence for several years with Fr. DiJulio and Fr. Doughty. He passed away recently in Ghana due to complications from kidney failure. Please keep him in your prayers. May his soul, and the souls of all the faithful departed, rest in peace.

LEAVE A LEGACY OF LOVE

It is important for everyone to have a will in order to insure your assets are directed according to your intentions and that everything is clear when you go back to God. Many people distribute what they have among loved ones and also generously leave a portion of their assets to the parish.

You can leave a gift to build up the future of your parish (St. Lawrence or Sacred Heart) with a bequest in your will. Some people leave a percentage such as 10% of their estate to the church, and others leave a fixed amount.

Previous generations of Catholics built up the church we inherited... leave your legacy for the Catholics to come after us.

To Find Help or to Give Help

Stephen Ministers are laypeople—Christian men and women—trained to provide one-to-one care to people experiencing a difficult time in life, such as grief, divorce, job loss, chronic or terminal illness, relocation, or separation due to military deployment.

Stephen Ministers come from all walks of life. Their commonality? A passion for bringing Christ's love and care to people during a time of need.

TRANSFORMED

How God Changes Us

Transformed will challenge you by exploring what the Bible has to say about every essential area of our lives: Spiritual, Physical, Mental, Emotional, Relational, Financial, and Vocational. The world is shouting for our attention with answers to our relationship struggles, solutions to our financial trouble, and explanations for our search for meaning. But the world's promises leave us empty and searching for more. God's Word is the only answer that promises to transform our lives from the inside out. Be Transformed Together.

cherished treasures

Tracey Earl Welliver, MTS

For we are God's co-workers; you are God's field, God's building. According to the grace of God given to me, like a wise master builder I laid a foundation, and another is building upon it. But each one must be careful how he builds upon it, for no one can lay a foundation other than the one that is there, namely, Jesus Christ.

-1 Corinthians 3:9-11

Catholics who attend daily Mass come across interesting feasts all the time: unknown saints and martyrs, various titles for Jesus and Our Lady, the Chair of St. Peter. One of the most interesting feasts you might encounter is the Dedication of the Lateran Basilica each November. Many probably ask, "A feast for the dedication of a building?" This is not just any building. It is the first church built after the legalization of Christianity by Constantine in the fourth century. In some ways, it held the font through which a baptismal revolution changed the world.

Good stewards cherish that which has been handed down to them through the ages. My pastor once likened stewardship to being in an antique store. When you purchase an antique you take responsibility not only for that material possession, but for all the memories of lives it has touched through the generations. You can almost feel the presence of the one who made the item, as well as those who possessed it and used it before you. Now it is yours to care for and, if it is truly of value, you will probably pass it on years later to the next steward.

What we create with God and what we take care of in this material world helps provide meaning in our lives. The picture your child who is now an adult, drew when he was 5 rests comfortably in your hope chest. The book given to you by a friend on your birthday stands at attention on the bookshelf. The souvenir you bought on that once-in-a-lifetime trip reminds you of that special time as you sit daily at your desk. Yes, it is true, all these material things, just like the Lateran Basilica, will some day pass away when Christ returns. But what these things represent will live on forever.

As good stewards, we see the value of what is unseen as well as that which is seen. Take good care of all those things entrusted to you. They are important tools on the journey, to remind us what is important and where we are going.

Idea for response

Find something you have possession of that means something to you. Perhaps it reminds you of a person, a place, or an important time in your life. Spend 5 minutes reflecting on why it means something to you and what part it plays in your life.

Take time to reflect

What is one thing that I can pass on to someone else that will be meaningful? Can I pass it on now while I am still alive and able to share in the joy of that exchange?

the first noel

Barbara Blank

On Friday, December 14th, the children of St. Lawrence's Early Childhood Learning Center had their annual Christmas Show. The children re-enacted the first Christmas complete with shepherds, angels, the three Wise Men and of course, Joseph, Mary and the baby Jesus. Songs sung by the children included: Jingle Bells, Mary Had a Baby Boy and We Wish You a Merry Christmas. The show ended with a visit from Santa who was able to find time in his busy schedule to visit ECLC. Every child received a present from Santa!

The Prophets: Messengers of God's Mercy will draw you closer to your heavenly Bridegroom. If we consider that God is the Divine Bridegroom and the Church is his Bride, then the prophets can be seen as "spiritual marriage counselors."

Their prophetic words speak to us even today, as they draw us closer to our heavenly Bridegroom, and show us how to share him with others.
