while we're at it

our vision Create a parish of missionary disciples whose personal relationship with Jesus Christ inspires others into a life-changing relationship with Him.

Dear Friends,

I'm really excited about our celebrations of 150 years of the Catholic Faith in Brewster Village, dating back to our first small wooden church in 1871! It was just after the Civil War and Brewster was just starting to get on the map, thanks to the vision of Walter Brewster and the arrival of the railroad. There were no cars, no highway system, no planes, no television or radio... and certainly no internet communications. Life was slow and communities were tightly knit and people depended on each other.

Our original 100 seat church had three Masses on Sundays, but those pioneer Catholics knew they needed to grow the Church. By 1914 a much bigger church was built, and by the early 1930's we would form a second church in Putnam Lake for the growing population there. They started a school and religious education and a series of parish organizations to serve the changing needs of a changing Church over the decades. The dream of our forefathers in the faith would come true, and today, as a parish we are "Better than Ever" before.

We'll celebrate that great history at our Golf Outing on September 10 by raising money for our local homeless shelter. We'll celebrate at our 150th Anniversary Gala on October 16 too. And we'll welcome Cardinal Dolan on Oct. 24 as he comes to rededicate us to build up our Church. And our Heritage Weekend November 13-14 will put the touchstone on it all.

In the meantime, our job is to continue to build up our community of faith, and we'll be launching the wonderful Alpha program to invite people back to a relationship with Jesus. We're developing dozens of "small discipleship groups" for people to keep growing in their faith and find support from each other.

We're welcoming new Catholics through our RCIA program and we're inviting everyone to get involved in our Brewster Cares efforts that feed and house the poor in our area, teach English and provide for kids through our camps and Vacation Bible School.

One reminder – our religious education programs of Family Program and Edge will be joined together between Sacred Heart and St. Lawrence this year – take a moment on the website to get your kids registered.

God bless,

Fr. Richard Gill

P.S. We say goodbye to our talented music director this weekend. Peter Ryan will be leaving to dedicate more time to developing his Christian music career. He's finished his first album and we wish him all the best in his new endeavors.

midsummer market— raising money for our homeless!

JUDY CALLAHAN

Our first Midsummer Market was an amazing success. Thanks to the generosity of a donor, our parish received an abundance of 'like new' items that originally were sold by Amazon. From hair care to lawn care and everything in between, the tables were filled with merchandise. Independent vendors joined us and offered additional products for sale, resulting in great selections for the shoppers who were quite happy with all the variety and great bargains.

Lots of work took place in advance of the weekend Market. First, we recruited dozens of eager volunteers who began the daunting undertaking that included unloading the truck, sorting through the boxes of merchandise, categorizing the items, transporting them, setting up the tables, and finally, helping shoppers find what they were looking for. Many thanks to all the volunteers, in particular our young people who gladly gave their time and did a fabulous job!

All the proceeds from the Midsummer Market are being donated to Brewster Cares in support of the Homeless Shelter. When shoppers realized where the money was going, so many of them opened their hearts and their wallets and donated extra money. One shopper even shared the story of a family member's experience with homelessness, and she was so grateful for what we were doing. We are an Amazing Parish thanks to everyone involved!

CHRISTINA & ALEXANDRA SFARRA

We offered to be volunteers on Aug. 7-8 for the Midsummer Market. Little did we know how much of a great experience it would be. Throughout the weekend we learned skills such as: organizing and restocking tables, helping customers, pricing items, and working within a time frame. We also made amazing new friends all while raising money for the Brewster Cares Homeless Shelter. This was a very positive experience and we strongly recommend volunteering to anyone looking to give their time to help those less fortunate in the community. We are very thankful we took this opportunity and will surely do much more in the future.

- Brewster Cares had 33 Volunteers
- Raised $3,800 in sales
- Started with 160 boxes and had 60 boxes of goods left
- The retail value of what we sold was around $9,300

the greek revival in brewster

TINA GRANT

When the American Revolution ended, the Commissioners of Forfeiture sold to Peleg Bailey a large farm that included much of the land that was to become the Village of Brewster. His farmhouse was east of the intersection of Oak Street and Prospect Street. A portion of Peleg's farm was passed to his grandson Bailey Howes. In 1833, Howes sold 98 acres to Gilbert Bailey who acquired another 39 acres. Gilbert Bailey's farmhouse was at the foot of the present driveway to the Garden Street School. On February 17, 1848, 134 acres were sold to James and Walter Brewster for $8,000.00. The Brewster brothers were descendants of Elder Brewster who arrived on the Mayflower! Their farm had a source of power in a stream that flowed north and emptied into the Croton River and beneath the surface of of their farm was a considerable amount of rich iron deposits. They decided this was an ideal spot to start a new village. It had the power for factories and transportation for raw materials, finished products, and workers were available. James was gifted mechanically, and Walter was an architect and builder.

In 1849 the railroad was completed as far as Brewster. James reopened the iron mine, located on the north side of Main Street. It was here James invented and manufactured the gimlet point screw. After removing 300 tons of ore, James sold the mineral rights to Harvey Steel and Iron Company for $4,000.00. James invented the hulling rice machine and moved south to introduce and manufacture his invention. Walter stayed and followed his dream to develop Brewster. He built two railroad depots and built Main Street from the depots to the existing road at the end of Oak Street, allowing stagecoaches to connect with the trains at the Brewster depot. Walter Brewster is said to be responsible for 50 structures in Brewster including churches and public dwellings. One of his best-known houses in the Greek revival is a mansion on the hill between Oak Street and Main Street, referred to at one time as the Walter Brewster House. One of my fondest memories of this house is being able to sit on its spacious front lawn with multiple other families during the '60s and watch the Brewster Fire Department parade!

The Village of Brewster was incorporated in 1894. Once a farm area, Brewster quickly became a thriving village with factories and mills along the river, iron mines, houses, shops, a railroad, a newspaper, banks, two schools, and five religious groups, including St. Lawrence O'Toole!

Walter Brewster House on Oak Street

As I pass the former Walter Brewster house and the homes along Main Street, I imagine Brewster 150 years ago and how it all began. Walter Brewster impacted the lives of millions. I am grateful to him, his brother, and countless others for their generosity and community effort who gave their heart to our village where St. Lawrence calls home.

time to register for religious education - grades 1-8

We love your kids and we love helping them grow to understand how much God loves them and watches over them. We want every kid in our religious education programs, Family Program or EDGE, to know and experience the love God has for them and always through out their lives. Our program works with you as parents to help you show your children that faith is about the joy of being loved unconditionally. When we grasp that we come from God and are going back to him, our lives get deeper and more peaceful and we put all our challenges into perspective.

TO SIGN UP: Go to stlawrenceotoole.org/Religious\_Ed for the Family Program grades 1-4 and/or the Edge grades 5-8.

DIRECTOR OF DISCIPLESHIP

In the Ordinary—Into Our Homes

“Every day offers a choice: what sort of reading, what sort of TV, what sort of conversation, what sort of friends will we choose to welcome into our homes.” I read this quote in the Magnificat recently. It is an awakening to think of our choices in entertainment as being welcomed into our home. Consider some of the disturbing stories and characters in books, movies, and the news. Then ask yourself: do I want to invite them into my mind, my home, my life?

Several years ago, people were raving about the Netflix series, Breaking Bad, so I started watching it. I found it very disturbing but held on for a couple of episodes until I realized it was making me feel very yucky inside. I believe it was God telling me that it wasn't good for me. I have been very conscious since then to stay away from entertainment content that glorifies or normalizes evil in our society. We can include social media in that mix as well. Facebook, Instagram, Pinterest, etc. all have their good sides, but we have to be careful when we invite them into our home.

On August 20, from 7:00 pm-9:30 pm in the St. Lawrence Gym, we will be showing the documentary *The Social Dilemma. In it, former executives from big tech firms like Google, Facebook, and Instagram sound the alarm on the dangerous influence social media has on our society. We will also watch a video by Bishop Barron challenging Catholics to reject the mean-spirited indignity and violation of charity and justice that is rampant on those platforms today.

Proverbs 2:10-13 tells us, “Wisdom will enter your heart. Discretion will watch over you, saving you from the way of evil men, from men of perverse speech, who leave the straight paths to walk in ways of darkness.” We must be educated and vigilant to protect our homes. Wisdom and discretion will protect us from evil.

Scripture: Read Proverbs 2:10-13. What does Wisdom mean to you in this verse?

Call to Action: Join us on Aug. 20, and bring friends, teens, and adults, to learn about and discuss this critical topic.

LEAVE A LEGACY OF LOVE

It is important for everyone to have a will in order to insure your assets are directed according to your intentions and that everything is clear when you go back to God. Many people distribute what they have among loved ones and also generously leave a portion of their assets to the parish.

You can leave a gift to build up the future of your parish (St. Lawrence or Sacred Heart) with a bequest in your will. Some people leave a percentage such as 10% of their estate to the church, and others leave a fixed amount.

Previous generations of Catholics built up the church we inherited... leave your legacy for the Catholics to come after us.
