while we're at it

our vision Create a parish of missionary disciples whose personal relationship with Jesus Christ inspires others into a life-changing relationship with Him.

Dear Friends,

Bunch of business this week:

We welcome Bishop Gerry Colacicco, our regional bishop and assistant to Cardinal Dolan, to our parish this weekend, to celebrate our 11:00 am Mass and meet our parishioners. Our staff and leadership team will meet with him as well and get his feedback on the life of our parish community.

This Tuesday is the episcopal ordination of our dear friend Bp. Elect Joseph Espailat at 2 pm at St. Patrick's Cathedral. If you'd like to join us, call the rectory or go to stlawrenceoole.org/ORDINATION to get a place on our bus.

This is the last weekend we'll celebrate the 4:00 pm Mass at Sacred Heart. Cancelling Masses is not what we want to do, but is the result of two related crises: the shortage of priests and a secular society in which Catholics don't feel the need to attend Mass regularly. As I mentioned here last week, and also from the altar, we all need to work to bring back the fallen away Catholics and especially our loved ones who no longer attend Church. Maybe this Lent is the time for some of them to come home.

Covid regulations are phasing out as new infections are dropping drastically. We'll keep our livestream 9:30 Sunday Mass going, but it should be mainly for the homebound and ill, and those who live in other areas. Everyone else should be making it back to regular Sunday Mass now. Nudge your family and friends: time to come back! Masks are optional, but recommended if you are vulnerable.

Check out the information in the bulletin about our local participation in Pope Francis's Synod listening sessions – March 26 in Hopewell Junction. Let's all go...

Lent: Starts this Wednesday with Ash Wednesday. Check out times for Masses and services for ashes in the bulletin. Let's make this Lent awesome. To do that, a good Confession is needed. Maybe daily Mass... my dad used to go every day during Lent, every year – great idea. Try out our Monday Seasons of Praise Holy Hours starting March 7. Different priests will come in to lead it each week. Fridays are Stations of the Cross at both parishes. Make this season a time you take on voluntary sacrifices and penances for sin... it's a time to make things right with God again, and be purified. Don't miss the chance.

God bless,

Fr. Richard Gill

The Holy Father has called for meetings of the laity together with the bishops across the world in order to hear the concerns and ideas of regular Catholics and people on the margins. This is to prepare ideas and give input to the Synod of Bishops in Rome in 2023.

Cardinal Dolan has scheduled meetings in 12 different areas around the Archdiocese to gather people and discuss their ideas on perspectives on our faith today. The meeting for Dutchess and Putnam County parishes is coming up MARCH 26.

All Catholics are invited to attend and contribute their points of view. There will be prayer and topics for discussion in small groups.

Rev. Bartholomew E. Kilcoyne

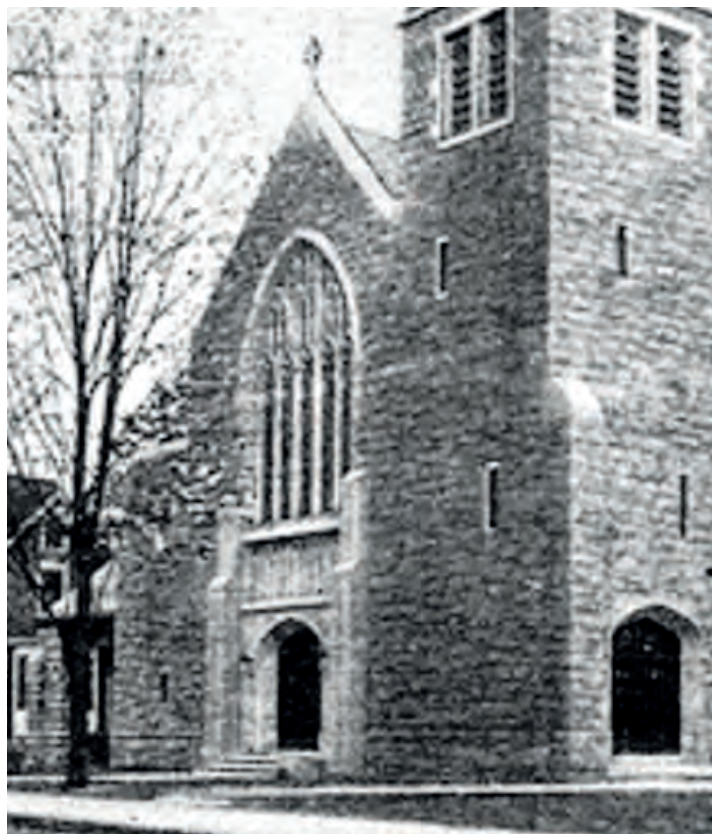

first ordination for st. lawrence

TINA GRANT

Rev. Bartholomew E. Kilcoyne was born and raised in Brewster, attended public school and graduated high school in 1929. He studied at Cathedral College, NY and attended St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers, NY. He was uncle to fellow parishioner Judy Bruen.

On May 22, 1937, Rev Kilcoyne was ordained a priest at St. Patrick's Cathedral, NYC. His mother, with many Brewster parishioners, attended. His father was deceased. Rev. Kilcoyne and his forty-six classmates preceded in procession to the altar, followed by Cardinal Hayes. During the Mass, the candidates were presented to the Cardinal for Ordination to the priesthood. Cardinal Hayes charged each candidate to consider well the important step that they were taking. The candidates prostrated themselves on the floor and the Litany of the Saints was recited, invoking the help of God. Then came the essential part of the ceremony – the laying of the hands, made in silence. It is by this imposition of the hands; the candidates are made priests. Prayers followed for strength and assistance for the new priests. Cardinal Hayes anointed their hands with Holy Oil, to perform the ministry of the altar. With hands bound by a linen cloth, they each touched the Chalice, Paten and Host used in the Holy Mass. As they touched these instruments, there was conferred on them the power to offer sacrifice and to celebrate Mass. It would remain an absolutely beautiful and unforgettable experience for all who attended.

On May 23, 1937, Rev. Kilcoyne celebrated his First Solemn Mass at St. Lawrence! The local paper reported: "the Mass moved smoothly and gracefully culminating in the solemn moment when Father Kilcoyne, bending low over the altar, pronounced the words of consecration over the 'bread and wine'." A moment of awe for all in attendance. Fr. Kilcoyne administered Holy Communion to his mother, a special moment between mother and son.

Excitement filled the air. Fr. Philbin spoke heart-rending words "Why do we rejoice to such an extent? We are trying to do what the angels did in Bethlehem when Christ first came on earth. We are trying to sing our Gloria in Excelsis. There is no parallel for the task which he undertakes today. We know that there are many, many callings in this world which entail very solemn obligations. Obligations of life and limb, health and sickness and the prevention of death. But the obligations that are serious to an extent which we can scarcely measure, are the obligations of a priest, the welfare of man's soul.

"What we do is sometimes not visible even to ourselves. We have reached a certain stage in our spiritual growth; this is the climax. This sanctuary has given a priest. You have given him to the Universal Church. We have sent someone out to preach the Gospel of Christ to others. Something we are proud of. And we congratulate the mother. These things are not done in a day. The preparation generally begins in childhood, and it begins in a good Catholic home. To her, it is a day that will never be repeated in her life, having her own son stand at the altar and offer his Mass for her. I wish happiness from the depths of my heart and that this occasion will bring a blessing on the parish and the priest and that some vocations will crop up through his example and that this parish will have many vocations."

Where would we be without our priests? Let us pray for Jack Kristensen, a fellow parishioner who will be entering the seminary and Fr. Joe Espallat, who will be ordained a Bishop on March 1 at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

a carnival to remember!

KIM SANTERRE

The St Lawrence O'Toole Early Childhood Learning Center had a mini carnival day on Wednesday, February 10, to celebrate the end of Catholic Schools Week 2022. It was originally scheduled for Friday, February 4, but needed to be rescheduled twice due to weather events. But, the carnival finally happened and fun was had by not only the students, but staff as well.

Thanks to Mrs Tedeschi (art teacher), Mrs Tucker (PK 4 Teacher Assistant), Mrs Gauriloff (music teacher and parent of a student) and Mrs Buttermark (parent of a student), for giving up their free time outside of school time, to set up and clean up, an amazing carnival for our students to celebrate and have fun. Students and staff dressed crazy and dove right in! There were games, music, dancing, laughing (the best), tattoos, dress up and photo ops and best of all-POPCORN!

Who doesn't love a carnival? Can't wait until our next fun event at ECLC! Hooray!

CHEMISTRY OF GRACE

Those of us who bake know that we are supposed to measure some ingredients out gently and pack others down firmly. For instance, with flour, we must spoon it lightly into a measuring cup, fill it to heaping, then drag a straight-edged knife across the top to level it off. Baking is chemistry, so if we dip our cup into a canister of flour, tap it on the counter, and spoon in more until it is heaping, we will be using too much flour and throw off the formula. The cake or cookies will fail.

That analogy came to mind as I read the last two lines of last Sunday's Gospel. "Give, and gifts will be given to you; a good measure, packed together, shaken down, and overflowing, will be poured into your lap. For the measure with which you measure will in return be measured out to you."

I take two important messages away from those words. First, God is very generous with his gifts. He packs our cups full, then taps them down to make room for more. He adds more gifts so that the cup is overflowing, then pours them out on our laps, so we can't miss them!

Next, let's consider the word, "measure." In baking we may use an 1/8 teaspoon or a cup to measure ingredients. For other purposes we might use a pail or a bushel basket or a cord or an acre for a measure. Jesus is telling us that some people will get a heaping 1/8 teaspoon of gifts poured out onto their laps, while others will receive a heaping acre of graces. It all depends on how generously we share our gifts and talents with others. Let's remember that these are God's words and his words are true. They are promises, not potential possibilities. We can trust that God's chemical formula for grace will not fail us, but it is up to us to decide which measure we want Him to use for us.

Scripture: Read Luke 6:38. What stands out?

Call to Action: What measure do you want Jesus to use for you? Start increasing your measure by doing one simple thing for another person every day.
