while we're at it

Dear Friends,

In the bulletin today you can see photos of the many kids from the South Bronx who came to our camp and all the fun they had. It was thanks to your generosity and support and I'm really proud of you all for giving so these underprivileged kids could enjoy some of the things we maybe take for granted. The camp finished up Friday and the kids went home happy.

Just a few reminders:

If you're a parent with kids in grade 1-8, be sure to sign up for religious education. Cecilia Britez is running our Family Program for grade 1-4, and Dominick Russo our EDGE middle school program for kids grades 5-8. We're planning a great year for the families to delve deeper into our faith as Catholics.

One of the best things about our parish is the Perpetual Adoration Chapel where there is at least one person praying for us every hour of the night or day, 168 hours a week. We've got some openings with available hours. Maybe it's time you took on your own personal hour for time with Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. Our success has inspired Fr. David Rider, pastor of Sacred Heart in Monroe, to start his own Perpetual Adoration Chapel there. It will be a powerful source of grace for his people, like ours is for all of us!

Keep praying for the success of the pro-life movement – after a disappointment in Kansas, we had a great win with Indiana practically banning abortion in the state. At least now “we the people” have the right to make our case and persuade people to protect innocent unborn human life in the law. And we can expand the number of crisis pregnancy centers to help women in trouble who need our help.

Coming up soon – a new initiative at the parish for strengthening marriages and relationships... we'll be rolling this out for the parish in the next several weeks as the summer winds down.

Thanks again for loving our parish and being active and supportive. It's what makes St. Lawrence and Sacred Heart such great places to be Catholic.

God bless,

Fr. Richard

P.S. This year, because of the calendar, the Feast of the Assumption tomorrow, August 15 is not a holy day of obligation, but we will offer Mass at 8:30 am and 12 noon to honor Our Lady. All are invited!

keep calm and camp on!

RON WHITEHEAD

Wow, how time flies when you're having fun. It's hard to believe, but our fourth week of Brewster Cares Day Camp is coming to an end. Throughout the summer, our campers learned so many valuable biblical lessons while having fun at the same time. All of this was made possible by so many local volunteers, hard working counselors and dedicated activity leaders.

Each day, the campers started off their day with a well-balanced breakfast that was provided by local restaurants and devoted volunteers. After breakfast, our entire camp participated in song and worship time. Here, the campers learned new songs and movements to help them remember the songs. The campers were also taught the importance of lifting up their voices to the Lord and how singing is a part of worship.

Each week, our camp focused on different themes in which they were taught how to use it in their everyday lives. Our four themes were: GOD IS ALWAYS WITH US, JESUS LOVES US ALL, THE POWER OF

Joe Burowski builds with plastic piping to create an instrument for sound

PRAYER, and GOD'S GRACE IS ENOUGH. The campers had the opportunity to learn all about these important topics in different stations.

The campers daily activities included art, drama, games, nature and nutrition. It was a blessing to see everyone learning in a fun and loving environment. Thanks to Father Gill, our campers were also able to attend Mass each week. I can say without a doubt that many important faith seeds were planted in our campers this summer.

with gratitude

Thank you to the parishioners of St. Lawrence O'Toole and Sacred Heart for your love, grace and support over the past 27 years. It has been an honor to serve you and a blessing to call both parishes "home." Thank you especially to those who so kindly prepared my retirement party and to all those who so generously attended and gave gifts. Thank you to Fr. Gill for your stewardship and support for all of these years. You all will forever remain in my thoughts and prayers. May the Lord continue to look upon you and guide you in your faithful worship to Him.

KEY THOUGHT

Jesus demonstrated God's love in so many ways during his earthly ministry. He will also accomplish an incredible blessing of love when he comes to take God's children home to be with him forever. However, the cost of those blessings is high — high for him, high for the Father, and high for those who follow him. Jesus left heaven, came to earth, and died a horrible death to provide these blessings. The Father withheld his power and allowed those he created to do such horrid things to his Son. So we must not be surprised at the powerful language Jesus uses here. His ministry calls for a decision, a radical decision, to be made. Either he is God with us, or he is an impostor. Either he is Christ, God's Messiah and our Savior, or he is delusional. Either he is Lord, King of our hearts and of all creation, or he is a liar. Making a decision about him is divisive. It will divide families and households. It will be politically incorrect because it doesn't allow for alternatives. As Jesus spoke to his disciples, he also speaks to us. If we decide for him, our decision will not make everyone happy and won't lead to everyone's liking us. A passionate disciple of Jesus will not be appreciated by all — maybe not by most — but will surely be appreciated and rewarded by God!

DIRECTOR OF DISCIPLESHIP

CHEERING SECTION

St. Paul’s words, this weekend, are very hopeful and heartening for me: “Since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us rid ourselves of every burden and sin that clings to us and persevere in running the race that lies before us while keeping our eyes fixed on Jesus.”

These words remind us that we are part of an immense community of faithful Christians. Not just our fellow parishioners and Catholics alive today, but also the unseen angels and saints, who are available to inspire and intercede for us. Peter Kreeft explains it this way, “Think of how you would feel if you were running around a track in a stadium all alone and suddenly you saw thousands of fans sitting in the seats cheering you on. That is how we should feel when we read this verse.”

Being aware of their existence is key to feeling their companionship. Their invisible presence may be hard to detect, but as Catholics, it isn’t hard to keep them in mind. We wear medals of our Blessed Mother and our favorite saints. Statues, icons, and prints adorn the walls of our homes and church buildings. When we see and wear these images, we should think of them as present with us, that they are keeping us company, cheering us on, leading us to Jesus.

Last week at Brewster Cares Day Camp we brought all of the children into the church and focused on St. Lawrence’s stained-glass windows of the saints. We distributed markers and coloring sheets of our windows and they worked carefully, vividly matching the originals. They learned, and we should too, that when we are in church, we should consider the sentry of saints surrounding us on all sides. They are not just historical figures, but generous, loving benefactors longing to help us across our own finish line.

Scripture: Read Hebrews 12:1-2. What stands out?
Call to Action: We have published a Sacred Art Coloring Book of the stained-glass windows of St. Lawrence and Sacred Heart. It can be very prayerful to study and do art. Purchase one after Mass and come by one day with your markers. Choose a pew, study our saints, ask them to cheer you on!
