while we're at it

Dear Friends,

We've all got people we love who aren't practicing the faith. It's part of the times we live in, and it's frustrating. Because we can often see that so many of their problems and struggles would be so much better if they had a strong faith in God and a more personal relationship with Jesus. So we pray for them and hope for the best. But next month we're offering something that might be the answer to our prayers.

It's our parish mission, led by Deacon Bob Rice of the Franciscan University of Steubenville.
December 4 —December 6 from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm in the evening.

Franciscan University is well known as one of the most vibrant centers of Catholicism in the country and Deacon Bob Rice is one of their top speakers. We're in for three powerful evenings that will change our parishes for the better.

This is the perfect moment to bring your friends and loved ones – the ones who are lazy and not good about making it to Church, the ones who have grown cynical and skeptical about religion, the ones with doubts about the goodness of God, the ones who question certain beliefs and teachings – for all of them the Holy Spirit will speak his word through Bob and through this amazing experience.

Do whatever it takes to bring your people to this event. You will not regret it.

This mission is also for you in case you are stuck in neutral, and your faith in God is not alive and vibrant anymore. It is the way for you to get unstuck once and for all. Don't miss it!

God wants this mission to re-ignite our parish and each one of us. Sign up at: <https://cvent.me/0Y81GR>

The Centro Charismatic Center of the Bronx will run a parallel mission December 5 — December 6 from 7:00 pm to 9:00 pm for our Spanish-speaking members and set that community on fire as well. Sign up at: stlawrenceotoole.org/misión\_española

God bless,

Fr. Richard

all souls day at st. lawrence o'toole cemetery

Mass was celebrated at the St. Lawrence O'Toole cemetery to pray for all the souls buried there. After the Mass, Fr. Richard blessed the graves.

trunk or treat!

KIM SANTERRE

St. Lawrence O'Toole Early Childhood Learning Center (ECLC) enjoyed celebrating Halloween. We had a Halloween parade, a Trunk or Treat and a visit from some Kennedy Catholic High School students.

On Friday, October 28, ECLC had its annual Trunk or Treat event. The event took place outdoors, in our parking lot, but due to the weather we had to move it indoors. Staff and families who volunteered to decorate a trunk, handed out candy to all of the children and families trick or treating. The children and many adults dressed up in their costumes. We had a pumpkin decorating contest. Families and Staff enjoyed the evening.

On the morning of the Trunk or Treat, students from Kennedy Catholic High School came to ECLC dressed in their football and cheerleading uniforms to read to the students. The students LOVED having these special visitors as an extra Halloween treat! Mrs Tucker worked so very hard on organizing this day's events. What a success!

On Halloween, we had a Halloween parade in our costumes. We lined up our PK 3 and Pk 4 classes and paraded around the Parish Center. Even parents and families joined in on the parade and trick or treated to collect candy from our Parish Business Manager, Maureen Herbstritt.

It was a fabulously fun Halloween!

meaningful standards

Recently my son and I were joking around referring to things using the wrong units of measure. For instance, we might have said that I baked three miles of cookies, or that he worked six gallons that day. Our conversation was just silly, but it got me thinking about how using incorrect standards can be confusing and deceptive. And how statements using them can be completely meaningless.

Arthur Brooks, author, and speaker on happiness wrote, "Once when one of my sons was in high school, he asked me the three things I really wanted for him in life. I thought about it for a few days and my own answer surprised me. I didn't say happiness, because while that's important, a good life of purpose and meaning also requires unhappiness... In the end, I told him, 'Honesty, compassion, and faith.'"

As disciples, we can't allow ourselves to get caught up in the meaningless measures of today's culture: happiness, productivity, and assets to name a few. They do not measure the vital qualities needed to live a life that really matters, the standards that Jesus uses. Not only are they confusing and deceptive, but by using these incorrect units for accessing our lives, we will always measure up short. In contrast, Brooks' standards of honesty, compassion, and faith can accurately measure a good life of purpose, meaning, and joy. And a life filled with true joy is far superior to one of transient happiness.

This train of thought also brought to mind the current obsession with surveys and reviews. We have all read countless reviews written by people who had just received a package and commented on the carton and whether the item was or wasn't broken. They were so anxious to post that they missed the point. Likewise, we can be hasty in evaluating our day-to-day successes and failures, joys and sorrows, before we allow them to unfold. Time allows us to ponder them with wisdom, understanding, and knowledge. It is no wonder that God in his infinite wisdom has never issued us a satisfaction survey.

Scripture: Read Micah 6:8. What stands out?

Call to Action: Pray and think of three standards that you would like to use to measure your life. Write them down and keep them where you can see them every day.
