while we're at it

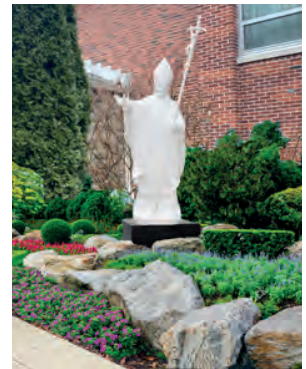

Dear Friends,

A word of thanks to all who have already stepped forward to make a pledge or a one-time contribution to the Campus Improvement Program effort at St. Lawrence to raise the money needed for our new parking lot and the shrines to Our Lady, St. Padre Pio, St. John Paul II, St. Teresa of Calcutta, and St. Michael the Archangel. We've received pledges for more than one-third of what we need to make it happen.

To those still praying about a gift, I encourage you to make a pledge or give a one-time gift to help us beautify our campus and make it more of an oasis of prayer in our busy town. We need these places for recollection and reflection and to center our thoughts on what is truly essential – worshipping our God and deepening our relationship with Jesus.

One of the best things you can do during your hectic days is to stop in the Church for five or ten minutes to be alone with Jesus in the quiet. Take a break from the frenzy and chaos and be with him for a moment. It will give you peace of soul. Pray for someone who needs your prayers.

Meanwhile, we've had to invest in less glamorous but still necessary projects. Our Parish Center was built between 1931 and 1960, so it shows signs of aging, especially in the heating system which has needed equipment upgrades over the past couple of years. We're investing in a new system of valves for the radiators so the heat can be better controlled. Sacred Heart's Parish Center dates from the mid-1990s, but its heating also needed work to the tune of $30,000 this year and new gutters last year.

We've been investing little by little in replacing different roofs in parts of the Parish Center, and the rectory at both parishes. Just like any homeowner, keeping the physical plant running well requires investments and we're trying to be good stewards of the gifts and tithes you make to our parishes.

And by the way, you've been so very generous.... It's amazing to note that amid pandemics and fears of recession, our weekly giving has increased by about 50% over the past ten years at St. Lawrence.

Sacred Heart has had some challenges in recent years with merging most of our operations, but I'm optimistic the financial picture is improving. People are fulfilling their pledges to the Parish Improvement Program and we hope to continue the projects that the campaign was to fund, including a new entrance to the Church.

Thank you again for the confidence you put in me and in our leadership team and we promise to serve you as best we possibly can, with the grace of God.

God bless,

Fr. Richard Gill

OUR SKILLED PILOT

I recently flew out of Westchester Airport on a clear, sunny afternoon. I had a window seat, and I watched as the plane ascended and leveled off right below the cloud line. It was such an interesting sight to be skimming through the clear air just below a solid field of clouds. Then the pilot ascended further and we were jetting straight through the clouds. There wasn't any turbulence; we just blasted through them effortlessly. Lastly, he ascended further yet, and for the remainder of our flight, we were flying smoothly and comfortably above the clouds. My companion and I commented on how skilled our pilot must be.

My destination was Memphis, and I spent five days at a ball field watching my son play college baseball. Memphis is not warm in March, and most days had a breeze that made us feel even chillier. At only 11-13 mph, the wind was invisible to the eye; it didn't blow the trees and barely moved the flag, but our bodies gratefully recognized when it stilled.

Leaving Memphis, again the weather looked clear, but this time we had a lot of turbulence. As strong as the wind must have been to rattle a five-ton airplane, looking out the window with no trees or things to blow around, its power was invisible to the human eye.

These observations got me thinking about how God's role in our lives can be illustrated by our reaction to the wind and clouds. Father Gill recently mentioned that modern man looks at God as a servant whose purpose is to keep us healthy and happy. If we don't get those things, we determine that He is not a good God. The world didn't think of God that way in the past.

Clearly, my second pilot was just as skilled as the first, and although I might blame my rocky ride on him, in reality, he was skillfully navigating us through turbulent conditions. God is doing the same, carrying us through the highs and lows of our lives. He allows us to feel the chill of the wind and the nausea of life's turmoil, but when we trust his guidance, He will pilot us skillfully through our earthly life to eternity with Him in heaven.

Scripture: Read John 3:8. What stands out?

Call to Action: Pray and ask God to help you trust Him through both the joyful and challenging stages of your life's journey.

family program equals family fun!

CECILIA BRITZ - DIRECTOR OF FAMILY PROGRAM

During the month of March, we learned about Saint Patrick and how he was courageous and obedient to the voice of God. God used Patrick to spread his love throughout Ireland.

After our lesson on Saint Patrick, the party began!

From bingo, crafts, removable tattoos, Irish music, green necklaces, and tree clover leaf headpieces to melted chocolate and pretzels to make delicious shamrocks and green and gold decorated cupcakes, we just had just so much fun!

Our party ended at 4:45 pm, just in time for families to attend lessons during Mass!

During our monthly Family Program gathering, we learned what our bodies show Jesus when we genuflect: "Lord you are God, I am at your service, and I love you!"

We also learned all the blessings we can receive if we practice using Holy Water with devotion and trust in God! Protection against storms and natural disasters, illnesses of body, mind, and spirit, the forgiveness of venial sins (with the right disposition of heart), and help against temptation.

Each of our families made their very own Holy Water fountain to take home and start a daily practice of blessing themselves and their children every day before they leave home for school.

Come and join our Family Program and let's walk our faith journey together! Registration for the 2023-2024 session is now open.
