while we're at it

Dear Friends,

As we usually do about this time of year, we'll present copies of the stewardship report on our parishes and if you don't mind, I'll say a few words at the Masses about where we are at financially these days. I always love compiling the report with our accountants and finance council because it makes me more aware than ever of the generosity and good hearts of our parishioners. And that generosity has made it possible to have more impact than ever before. Just a few examples:

- Everywhere people say that young people are the future of the Church, but we're one of the very few parishes in our area that invests in a full-time youth minister for middle and high school students. Gabriela Ramirez is doing a great job with the kids, so thank you for supporting this ministry.
- Every page of the Gospel teaches that the Christians had better care for the poor. It never says the government should fix it and Church people sit back and watch. Your generosity has enabled our parishes to found Brewster Cares as the main non-profit in our area helping the homeless, teaching ESL to immigrants, tutoring kids behind in school, and delivering meals to the homebound, poor, and grieving members of the community. And Brewster Cares is looking to do more and reach more people. With your support, we'll do it.
- Of course, as Christians, we naturally oppose abortion as the killing of innocent human life. But that means our pro-life movement has to commit to caring for and supporting women with unexpected pregnancies. So we formed Gianna's House so we as a Church could walk alongside those moms and give any support they need to choose life for their babies. Your generosity is making that happen. Lives are being saved.
- Every parish should be a place of beauty, and silence, a little piece of heaven on earth. An oasis from the chaos all around. We've tried to create beautiful and contemplative places to escape and connect with God. Our investments in both of our Church campuses this year have helped to create the "refuge from the storm". I love seeing people drop in to pray quietly, to spend time in the Adoration chapel, to recharge, and the line of people choosing to get right with God in Confession...

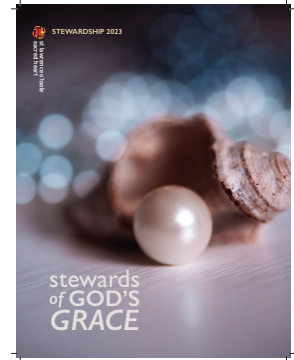

We've also been investing in good training for our excellent staff and ministers so they can be more effective in serving us all. We're blessed with good and passionate souls who work here and who volunteer to make our parishes great. They love serving you and serving God and see it as their mission.

This is a season of giving and I thank you again for all the giving throughout the past year. You've made it all possible with your generosity. And I encourage you to continue to be generous this Christmas, and I promise to continue to be responsible in the use of what you give. May God reward your generosity to St. Lawrence and Sacred Heart.

God bless,

Fr. Richard Gil

snow flake tea

The St. Lawrence Catholic Daughters, Court 185, hosted their 2nd Annual Snowflake Tea. Over 85 women came to enjoy English Teas served in beautiful traditional teapots, homemade English finger sandwiches, and decadent cookies. They raffled off amazing gift baskets including homemade quilts and blankets made by our very own Catholic Daughters. It was such a nice way to kick off the Advent season.

The money raised goes to many Catholic charitable organizations such as Gianna's House, Brewster Cares Homeless Shelter, and St. Lawrence's Prayer Grotto. Thanks to all who participated.

SMALL WAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Every year I send a lot of Christmas cards and therefore I receive a lot of Christmas cards. I have permanently installed fishing lines along my dining room walls by the ceiling and I hang them up as they arrive. My goal is to span three walls by New Year's Day. I usually get pretty close, and they typically decorate my dining room until spring because they are so pretty that I hate to take them down. Once I do, I resist throwing them away. I store them in the closet and find ways to repurpose them. Some I cut up and make into gift cards. A few years back, I framed a particularly beautiful one of our Blessed Mother and I pray with it each morning.

As of this writing, I have received two cards: one entitled "Season's Greetings" and the other, "Happy New Year." No Christmas cards. FYI, these longtime friends are both Christian, and I would guess that most of their cards are being sent to Christians. I have noticed this is a common practice: Christians may have a couple of people on their list that do not celebrate Christmas, so rather than buy separate cards for those folks or share the beautiful message of Christmas with them too, they remove Jesus and Christmas for everyone.

As disciples, we need to be proud of Christmas - truly proud of the message and promise of Christmas. We must use this opportunity to tell our world that we are faithful to Christ and believe in the miraculous message of the nativity. If you send cards, choose beautiful Christmas cards; your recipients might treasure them like I always do. When you buy stamps, buy Christmas stamps. I buy extra to use throughout the year - much nicer than flags.

There are a lot of small ways that we can ensure that God's grace will be poured out on our loved ones during the Advent and Christmas seasons, by including prayer in our preparations. As you sign and seal your cards, wrap presents, and label gift tags, pray for your recipients. As you untangle your Christmas lights and ribbons, pray to our Blessed Mother to undo the knots in your loved ones' lives. As you stir the ingredients and fire up the oven for your seasonal treats, pray that the Spirit will stir and fire up the cold and lukewarm hearts of those in your life who are far from Him.

Scripture: Read Proverbs 16:13. What stands out?

Call to Action: As you practice these small ways of staying focused on Jesus, think of some of your own as well.
